II. RECOMMENDED RELATED COURSES OR MINOR

The anthropology department does not require additional coursework to complete the major requirements. However, students are strongly encouraged to choose a variety of additional courses outside of anthropology that complement coursework within the department. These courses can either be related courses from several different departments or a formal minor in a single department. Please consult with the assigned departmental advisor for recommendations on particular courses. Note also that students wishing to complete a formal minor in another department must contact an advisor within that department about their requirements and necessary paperwork.
